

You seek a legend. Your mission is to find a man who knows the paths only elephant know and your dream is to take his skills and nerve for yours and turn that dream into a meeting with an elephant, but not an ordinary meeting. Youll travel to the Zambesi valley to meet this man and sit with him on the bank of the greatest of Southern Africas rivers. There youll stare into the slow swirling currents glowing with the suns farewell and at the first cool touch of night, know that Africa waits for you to walk the paths of your first home. For days youll follow these paths as they wind through shadowed woodland and into the relentless heat of the savannah. Youll search the shimmering distance for the grey painted herds that always seem to merge with the waving grass. There are paths that no man made. The African elephant made them. And theyll lead you to your legend.
